Fox & Co have, in one form or another, been in business for more than 30 years and have always been involved in property maintenance. At present we have interests ranging from property acquisitions, development & management of properties, property maintenance, plumbing & central heating works, painting & decorating and most household jobs, big or small.

Established in 1977, as a one man business in Primrose Hill, North London, Fox & Co (1998) is now a well established plumbing & heating company covering the north london area and resident in Muswell Hill for the past 20 years.

A Family Firm, Fox & Co remains a small family concern. Small enough to 'care' and large enough to respond to "on demand" service. Our aim is to give the customer a prompt, quality service at a very competitive price. Whether it's a dripping tap, new bathroom, broken down boiler or any associated works, we are always happy to help and advise. We try to ensure all calls are answered personally, but occasionally it may be necessary to call one of the mobile numbers.

Michael has been in the business for more than 25 years. He was educated at a public boarding school in Essex and originally began his working life, suited and booted in a central london office intending to train as an accountant, but soon tired of office work and after a brief period of trying a number of different jobs including diamond ring cutter, salesman, book-keeper, clerk and labourer, settled into the life of a self-employed tradesman, first becoming a handyman, then a painter and decorator, followed by plumber and finally a registered gas engineer.

Michael has lived in Muswell Hill since 1987 with his Australian partner, Sally Fox, who is actively involved with the local church and they have three children.

Michael is qualified to work on boilers, water heaters, gas fires, gas cookers, meters and Unvented Hot water cylinders as well as all bathroom and shower works. He regularly attends manufacturers training programs in order to keep up to date with the changing technology and has recently attended courses at Worcester, Vaillant, Baxi-Potterton, Ariston and Honeywell training centres in order to compliment his knowledge on condensing boiler installations and servicing, unvented hot water cylinder servicing, central heating controls, energy efficiency and boiler repairs. Upcoming courses include solar technology and electric boilers.
